DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1, 2 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Pitney (The Power Report) in view of Miyai et al. (6,588,675).

Pitney teaches that it was known in the art to provide a set of novelty stickers for re-labeling the switches in a car interior, wherein the designs on the stickers are clearly not symbolic of the intended purpose of the buttons. (See page 3, last paragraph). However, Pitney does not mention applying these stickers to dummy buttons. Miyai teaches that it was known in the art to provide a dummy button 114 along with functional buttons on an automobile dashboard. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to apply the stickers disclosed by Pitney to dummy buttons, of the type taught by Miyai, as well as functional buttons, in order to carry out more completely the humorous effect intended by Pitney.
